

Gates Obtains Praise For Gillespie Rescue

• PVT. HARRY E. GATES, 32, the fireman who rescued Dick Gillespie, a University freshman, from his second floor room has been commended by his commanding officer, Capt. John F. Lee, in a report to Washington Fire Chief Sutton.

This report will be turned over to the Fire department's advisory committee on awards where it will be studied with other rescue achievements throughout the current fiscal year. The awards committee will designate these acts as 1st, 2nd or third class rescues.

Awards Committee

After the awards committee has completed its task, their report will be turned over to a group of five commissioners appointed by Chief Sutton. This committee will decide if the classification given by the awards committee is adequate, and if so, will present the awards at the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

Fire Lt. Currier, commenting on Gates' valor, said, "From all that I've heard of what he did, I think he has a good chance of getting the gold medal."

The fire, resulting in the death of two University students, was the worst disaster in University campus history.

The funeral for Roger Ussery was held in Rockingham, North Carolina, at 3:00 p.m., Tuesday, October 28. The funeral for Floyd Ormsby was held the following day at 10:00 a.m. in Islip, N. Y.

According to John Toomey, chapter adviser for the Deltas, twelve of Ussery's fraternity brothers traveled to the North Carolina funeral services while nineteen Deltas went up to Islip.

Damage Estimates

According to Toomey, the estimates on house and property damage are not yet complete. He said that the boys have had too much on their mind to make an estimate.

"We will not know exactly what the fraternity can realize from the insurance companies until an inventory has been completed and we have had an appraisal on the condition of the house," he said.

He stated further that the house was insured for $25,000 on the real estate and $2,500 on house furnishings and personal belongings.

"It had been considered almost a total loss the day after the fire," Mr. Toomey said, "but it is not as great as we thought."

Clothes Lost

Only Tim Mead and Bill Filbeck lost practically all their clothing, he related.

Dick Gillespie saved almost all his clothes as did Bill Talantino, Gillespie's roommate. The reason their loss was small was because of the fact that their closet door was closed.

Mr. Toomey said that this was true wherever the doors were closed. "Where they were opened we lost substantially," he continued.

According to Fire Marshall Chief O'Connor it has not been established whether the door in Ussery's and Ormsby's room was open. There is no way of telling, he related, "because the door was completely burned off."

According to Mr. Talantino the second floor was not greatly damaged. All the doors were closed on that floor, he said.

To illustrate this point, Mr. Talantino said, "You could practically take the whole second floor out and put it somewhere else, and it would be livable."

The back of the house was not greatly damaged either, except for President Bernie Degen's room. In this case the door was left open after Degen tried to reach Mr. Ormsby and Mr. Ussery.

Because the fire probably started on the first floor, Mr. Toomey said that the basement was almost completely undamaged.

Temporary House

In the week since the fire, the University has supplied the fraternity with temporary housing

... MOVING DAY! Kitty Hyland is typical of the girls who helped the brothers of Delta Tau Delta fraternity relocate this past week. The Deltas, burned out of their house at 1910 G st., were given the use of the house at 706 22nd st. by the University.

Pledges To Present 'Once Upon A Time'

• THE JUNIOR PANHELLENIC Council released the titles of the skits for the Goat Show last Friday.

The theme of the show to be held in Lisner auditorium is "Once Upon A Time." Admission to the show is one can of food which will be given to the United Church Givers association and $.25.

Three prizes will be given for the three best skits. Skit judges are C. Max Farrington, assistant to the president, Dr. Richard W. Stephens, assistant professor of sociology and Miss Gay Cheney, instructor of physical education.

Poster Contest

An award will be presented to Pi Phi for the best poster advertising the show. Miss Elizabeth Burner of the physical education department judged the poster contest.

Alpha Delta Pi's pledge class will present "Once Upon A Time Alfred Hitchcock Presented." Pledge Joyce Crow is in charge of the skit. "As Ghosts Go" is the title of Alpha Epsilon Phi's skit which is under the direction of pledge Sherry Rabinowitz.

Annette Hatch is in charge of Chi Omega's skit, "Rockin' Robin" and Her Band of Hoods." Delta Gamma will be represented with "Snow White and the Beat Generation" with pledge Judy Krumlish in charge.

More Skits

"Timely Delimma," Delta Zeta's skit is directed by pledge Nancy Gilliss. Jeanne Clarke is in charge of Kappa Alpha Theta's skit, "Peanuts Is Eternal."

The pledge class of Kappa Delta will present "Time on Our Hands" under the direction of pledge Barbara Gurry. Under the direction of Bonnie Banker, Kappa Kappa Gamma will present their skit entitled "The Important Thing, My Dear, Is Not to Lose Your Head."

Jack Morton Donates Band

• OFFERS OF AID this week besieged Delta Tau Delta fraternity, whose house was ravaged early October 26 by a four-alarm fire which killed two members.

The Student Council Wednesday night set in motion plans for a dance to benefit the stricken Deltas. The dance will be held Saturday night from 9:00 p.m. to 12:00 midnight in the University gym.

Members of Jack Morton's orchestra will play. Mr. Morton, Washington bandleader and an active University alumnus, volunteered to send the orchestra without cost when he learned of the dance.

Tickets

Tickets will be available from Council members and at a booth in the Student Union lobby this week. Admission is $1.00 a couple, $.75 stag.

Printer Edwin E. Riggs donated paper and labor for tickets and publicity flyers. Notified of the project early Thursday morning, he had posters in the hands of Council members by class-time that night.

Robert Faris, director of men's athletics, made arrangements for use of the gym. Miss Elizabeth Burner, director of the University's program in modern dance, donated lights and decorations.

Student Council members themselves pitched in to complete arrangements and promote the dance. Dick Wells, director of the University pep band, offered his German ensemble and Dixieland Combo for intermission breaks.

Other Aid

Ed Crump, Law School representative, handled ticket printing and distribution. Member-at-large, Ann Marie Sneeringer, took over responsibility for the Union lobby sales booth.

Ed Rutsch, Council president, and Jim Lear, comptroller, will

Engineers Announce Novel Parents' Day

• DEAN MARTIN A. MASON, of the School of Engineering, has announced that Parents' Day will be held on Saturday, November 15.

This first Parents' Day will include a tour of the facilities, a light buffet lunch and a discussion period. Beginning at 11:00 a.m., it will end by 1:00 p.m. to allow those who wish to attend the homecoming football game to do so.

The event is sponsored by the alumni of the School of Engineering, the Engineering Council, and the faculty of the school in collaboration with Dr. Marvin W. Topping, assistant director of University development.

According to Dean Mason, it is particularly difficult to bring parents into an urban university activity. This event is being planned to acquaint the parents with the School of Engineering, its faculty and facilities, and the friends of their sons and daughters.

Chairman

Dean Mason has also announced the appointment of Professor Norman B. Ames of the engineering school as chairman of the event. Professor Ames will head up the committees composed of faculty and their wives, alumni and their wives and students.

Professor Ames will be assisted by faculty members, N. S. F. Matthews and L. A. Rubin. The alumni, composed of Bert Randall and J. Harold Link, will be in the charge of Herbert Rosen.

The faculty wives will be under the direction of Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Ames. Woodrow W. Everett is the chairman of the student committee from the Engineers Council of Steve Dietz, Jack O'Neale, Tom Coleman and Herbert Wilkinson.

Invitations were sent to parents and alumni last weekend. It is hoped that a number of students will accompany their parents.

Final details will appear in the next issue of the HATCHET.

Religion-In-LifeWeek Features Dr. Steere

• THE MAIN SPEAKER for Religion-in-Life week this year will be Dr. Douglas V. Steere.

Dr. Steere will speak to the advisers of the religious groups on campus at a breakfast on November 24. On the same day at 11:00 a.m., he will speak in Lisner lounge on the "Inward Renewal of the Church." All of the clergy of the Washington metropolitan area have been invited to this meeting, which is also open to students.

Dr. Steere is a professor of Philosophy at Haverford college. He received his Ph.D. from Harvard university and is a well-known speaker and author of many books. He has served with the friends service committee, World Council of Churches, and was president of the American Theological society. He has been a lecturer at numerous colleges and spent many years in Africa under a mission program.

Dinner

On the evening of November 24, there will be a dinner in Lisner lounge at 8:00 p.m. which will be attended by interfaith religious leaders, the presidents of sororities and fraternities on campus, the religious council, directors of men's and women's activities, and the faculty committee on religious life.

Following the dinner, Dr. Albert Day of the Wesley Theological Seminary of Washington will speak.

Dr. Day well known for his speaking ability. After Dr. Day's speech, the religious leaders attending the dinner will be taken by the various sorority and fraternity presidents to their houses at which time the members will hold a general religious conference with these religious speakers as leaders.

Homecoming Floats Parade On Campus November 14

• THE HOMECOMING FLOAT parade will begin at the student parking lot at 11:30 a.m. on Friday, November 14.

According to Alex Heslin, co-chairman of the float parade, the float exhibition will move down Eye st., turn right on to 21st st., then proceed to G st., and again turn right to allow the floats to be judged in front of the Student Union.

Prizes for the winning floats are trophies which will be on display this week in the Student Union lobby. First, second and third place winners in the sororities, fraternities, and independent organizations will be awarded their trophies at the Homecoming dance.

Pep Rally

The pep rally, the first presentation of the five finalists in the Queen contest, an introduction to the famous "Colonial grid-men," and the production of "Guys and Dolls," will be presented on that night.

Chairman Letty Katz reports that the Homecoming Queen will be chosen in a different manner this year. Previously the five finalists were chosen by judges and the Queen by student vote. This year the situation is the opposite.

"In this way," explains Letty, "the five finalists will represent the students' choice for a Homecoming Queen, and the final decision will be made on a non-partisan basis by the three judges."

Queen Finalists

To determine the five finalists, each student will vote for three of the forty-two candidates. The Queen will be selected from the five with the most votes at a tea on Friday from 2:00 to 3:00 p.m. in Woodhull house.

Next week's Hatchet will publish the pictures of the forty-two candidates.

A motor calvacade to Griffith stadium will leave the Student Union on Saturday at 12:00 noon. There, at 2:00 p.m. the Colonials will meet the Naval Academy for the big game.

Halftime festivities promise another look at the Queen finalists and an exhibition of talent and skill by the Navy marching band.

Terminating Homecoming festivities will be the Homecoming Ball, from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. at the National Guard Armory. Couples will dance to the music of Fred Perry.

Several long-awaited announcements will be made during the dance intermission. The 1958 Homecoming Queen will be presented with her court; new members of Gate and Key, fraternity men's honorary, will be tapped; the winners of the trophies for the sorority and fraternity best represented in Campus Combo sales will be made known, and the identities of George and Martha will be revealed.

Tuxedos

Students who wish to rent tuxedos may go to Woodhull A today from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. or tomorrow from 1:00 to 7:00 p.m. Long's Formal Rental service, on the recommendation of the Homecoming committee, will be there to take measurements. Delivery will be made on November 14.

One dollar down payment is required at the time of measurement. The rest of the seven dollars, a special price to students, may be paid on delivery. The homecoming committee will receive part of the proceeds from the rentals.

Long's will pick up all rentals on Monday, November 17, at school.

1908, 1933 Alums

The members of the classes of 1908 and 1933 are specially invited as honored guests to this Homecoming, their 50th and 25th anniversaries.

Members of both classes are being invited as guests of the General Alumni association to the buffet dinner on Friday, November 14.

Reunion chairmen are Thomas S. Jackson, class of 1933, and Claude W. Owens, class of 1908.

Editorials

Voluntary Aid

• THE REMARKABLE AID that has voluntarily come forth from organizations and individual members of this University, has, indeed, been an admirable gesture to the Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

The fraternity has received many essentials such as clothing, food and books from members of the University. The Book Store is willing to give books at a reduced rate to the members of the fraternity.

Many of the University sororities and fraternities have shown their sympathy to the families of the two boys killed in fire by sending funeral wreaths to the respective families.

The University has supplied the fraternity with temporary housing facilities in a two-story building at 706 22nd street. The house was previously used as the Alumni Relations office.

Since the house has been vacated for several months before it was given to the Deltas, it was covered with dust and dirt. Volunteer workers, composed mainly of sorority women, aided them in bringing the house back to into liveable condition by washing windows, woodwork and floor.

Under the auspices of the Panhellenic Council, sorority women are meeting to determine what is needed in the line of curtains, drapes and slip covers.

The Interfraternity Council is donating a fraternity flag to replace the one which was consumed in the fire.

The Student Council is sponsoring a dance to be held in the University gym on November 8. All proceeds from the sale of tickets, which are $1.00 drag and $.75 stag, will be donated to the Deltas. We would like to commend president Ed Rutsch and the Council on this well planned program.

We hope that everyone will lend their support to the dance.

Show Concern

• WE URGE ALL students to write letters to the editors. THE HATCHET welcomes your letters and comments on any matter or event that may be important to you.

We feel that THE HATCHET is in operation to serve the student body. Only through your suggestions for changes and improvements can THE HATCHET realize how it may best serve you. This year we have not received many letters and it has been a source of concern to us. We know that the student body has many ideas which would benefit the University greatly if these ideas were brought out through the pages of THE HATCHET.

Although THE HATCHET welcomes letters to the editors we will not print unsigned letters. All letters must be signed by the sender. We will withhold the name of the sender at his request, but for our own protection we must know the name of the people who submit letters which we print.

The Board of Editors reserves the right to delete parts of any letter printed when lack of space or any question of taste must be considered.

Open Letter

• WE THE MEMBERS of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, and our families, would like to extend our sincere and deep appreciation to every individual and organization on campus for the many kindnesses that have been extended to us during the past week.

To the members of the Administration who have provided temporary facilities, to the Greeks and the Student Council who have rendered invaluable assistance, and to every individual who has offered sympathy and encouragement we extend our heartfelt thanks.

With this small note we endeavor to convey our feelings for your friendship so freely given.

The Brothers and Pledges of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity

Sororities Rush Fraternity Men

• HOW DOES THAT sound to you? Emanon, a fairly new organization on Campus, consisting of social chairmen of all fraternities and sororities on campus, was looking for an idea to help facilitate better Greek social relations on campus. An now Emanon has done just that. It has come up with an idea that will really have this campus rocking. All sororities on campus will hold an open house sometime in the second semester, and interested fraternity men who would like to go through each sorority house will be requested to sign up. The fraternity men will be divided into groups and given a schedule of the order of houses to be visited and how much time can be spent at each house. This method is similar to what freshman girls do in order to go through rush. In this way Emanon feels that more opportunities for exchange with different groups can develop. To find out how various members of fraternities and sororities felt about this idea, Al Pope and Jackie Lovett, Co-chairmen of this organization, asked the following people to give their opinion.

Frank Wiesman—It appeals.

Kitty Hyland—I think it would be a fine idea providing that it can be arranged at a practical time in the crowded spring semester. I think it would work out best in connection with Greek week.

Carol Frankfeldt—It is a unique switch—do we serve cokes to the sixth growth only?

Mike Taylor—A fine idea; I think something like this helps promote better will on campus. A much needed factor.

Emanon plans to meet on Tuesday, November 18, at 8:00 p.m., at which time further plans for "sorority rush fraternity men" will be discussed. It hopes to see the social chairmen of each Greek organization. This will be a meeting no one will want to miss.

Jazz V

Washington Plans For Jazz Festival

• WASHINGTON MAY SOON have its first jazz festival. Plans are now being made to hold a jazz pageant here sometime next summer by a group headed by Mrs. Richard Bolling—wife of the Kansas City, Missouri Congressman, and including such jazz notables as Marshall Sterns and Willis Conover.

A unique feature of the festival will be in its organization, depicting the history of jazz. The festival will bring the men who made jazz history as it moved from New Orleans throughout the country.

It seems fitting that Washington will finally have such a festival. As shown before by this column, Washington holds a notch in the jazz hall of fame with such stars as Duke Ellington and Jelly Roll Morton. And it is from Washington that jazz-men circle the globe, financed with funds from the federal government, bringing America's top cultural weapon.

The festival would be another step in the forward move of culture in the area. Washington is noted for its art collection, museums and classical music groups, and is considered to be one of the top centers of the fine arts in America. The jazz festival would complete another such move—a move initiated by the establishment of a national collection of jazz in the proposed Cultural Center.

And it would complete yet another movement—the renaissance of jazz in the Washington area. Jazz reached its low point in Washington about three years ago, becoming almost an unknown quantity—so poorly followed that the city's jazz clubs faced the problems of closing or changing policy to other forms of music.

But jazz sprung back. Thanks to men like Bill Potts, Felix Grant, Willis Conover—just to name a few of the many—jazz has steadily climbed higher and higher. A Washington Jazz Festival would be an apex to the rise.

However there is another question facing the festival—Would such a festival fare well financially?

By looking at a few facts, it can clearly be shown why the festival would be financially sound. During the last two seasons at the Potomac Watergate, overflow crowds were present at the two jazz presentations—and these concerts featured only local talent. The number of formal jazz concerts given in the last few months also attests that Washington is going out to see jazz. More and more of the big-names are now coming to the area nighties—over the last weeks such names as Miles Davis and Andre Previn have all appeared in town.

The need for a festival has been shown; the financial aspects have been shown to be very good; all that remains now to be done is for a date to be set.

DISK REVIEWS: "The Modern Art of Jazz by Zoot Sims" (Dawn 1102) is the first of the successful matings of Sims' tenor and Bob Brookmeyer's valve trombone. Sims and Brookmeyer blend together perfectly, yet their solos are outstanding and clear. A good record for the collector of top contemporary jazz.

A clear difference between Sims and many other tenor saxmen is shown by Richie Kamuca in "The Kamuca Quartet" (Mode 102). Whereas Sims seems right at home both soloing in a group, Kamuca only fares well in the solo field. With the group, featuring the late Carl Perkins on piano, Leroy Vinnegar on bass, and Stan Levy on drums, Kamuca seems lost at times and tends to become dull. However, his solos are sharp and stand out over his group work.

Troubadours Open Colonial Series

by Morgan Bludgeon

• THE TRAVELING TROUBADOURS' concert was well-received last Friday night, and with good reason; the well-traveled chorus sang with such spirit that any technical flaws were readily overlooked.

Starting out with "Great Day and Open Thy Heart," the "Troubadours" would have made a better first impression if they had chosen more well-known numbers. The catchy "Stodola Pumpa" and selections from Carousell were familiar enough to be enjoyed solely for their familiarity.

Soloist Rita Bailey has seen enough popular singers to put on a good act, but her voice lacks control. It is assured that practice would make perfect.

The University's Barbershop Quartet, the Colonials, had excellent timing and tone. Their selections were thoroughly enjoyable, and their rehearsed ad-libbing added to the game.

The second installment of the Troubadours' repertoire began with the sacred "Break Forth, O Beauteous Heavenly Light," by Bach. It was quite an improvement over their first songs, for the timing was impeccable and the composer is recognized as a master. The Negro Spiritual, "Go Tell It on the Mountains," was a good transition from the solemn composition before it to their next number, "Carol of the Bells." The latter is a study in clear tones and syncopation, and was executed beautifully. "Once in Love With Amy" was enlivened by an amateurish dance routine. It seemed as if the participants were watching each other's actions too closely, giving the appearance of being self-conscious.

Bill "McGinsey" Dodson took the stage for three selections. Mr. Dodson is considered an Irish tenor, and Ride, Pagliacci was not written for his type of voice. "Tenderly," his second song, had a few low notes which gave him some trouble and detracted from an otherwise acceptable rendition. Mr. Dodson redeemed himself with his last number, "Danny Boy."

Next, a duet of Ann Mitchell and Wally Sherertz sang "Small Talk," in too slow a tempo, and "I Remember It Well." Assuredly, they are no Caron and Chevalier, but their singing and acting were not up to par.

They were followed by the new Men's Chorus, a second duet, and a third part of the Troubadours' concert. The performance was worthwhile beginning for the Colonial Series Program.

Active Kathy. Busy Co-ed

by Stella Fridgen

● THIS WEEK'S GUEST is a little lady with a big smile—Kathy Blackburn, who could well be GW's answer to Norman Vincent Peale when it comes to "positive thinking."

In this interview, Kathy emphasized with enthusiasm, her belief that the best way to improve or change things is to pitch in and give them a hand. Or as she put it, "People shouldn't criticize campus activities if they don't take part in them."

Kathy can hardly be accused of this offense. She is treasurer of her sorority, Kappa Kappa Gamma, executive secretary of the CHERRY TREE, was co-chairman of this year's Colonial Cruise, and has taken part in Homecoming and Career Conferences.

She is also membership chairman of Big Sis, one of her most satisfying activities. Working in Big Sis is, "kinda like a contagious disease. It renews your en-

Pike pledges really turned out for this affair with Bob Dunn and Jenny, Joe Robertson and Elaine Ellis, Joel Crenshaw and "Cookie," Phil Dubina and Betsy Baker, and Ray Linck and Gene Rockwell plus dates. The actives were there with Bill Johnston and Carol Fentress, Fred Dibbs and Phil Mary Mueller, Marion Hoar (The Mad Pharmacist) and Koontzie, and Lee Jameson and Bonnie Borden. Other partygoers included Ted Collins and DG Lou McCracken, and present in spirit were Tiger Adams, recently back from the oil fields of Oklahoma and Rudy the repairman.

Bye-Now

● TR-HIC OR TREAT!

Sorry, I'm late, but I had to see my Aunt Dyspepsia off Sunday afternoon. She dropped in for the weekend, and had to fly back home—on her broom. When I got to my dusty and haunted corner in the HATCHET office, I found this tasty little morsel, which put a little spirit in my tired blood, and I hope that it wakes yours up too.

Turning to the cultural side of the ledger, Thursday night proved otherwise to be a BIG night for music. The concert orchestra from the Halls of Sigma Nu presented another one of its evolutions of 1812. Maestro Beard conducted while John Harrison and Roy McNair were pursued.

More from Sigma Nu: Everyone had a gala time at the "Post Troubador Concert Open House." Some Troubador standbys reminding Icelandic tours with the new recruits were: Ann Mitchell, Dick Hedges, Suzy Whitton, Harry Gleason, Ed Creel, Linda Claster, Ann Marie Sneeringer, Edie Petersilla, Chuck Johnson, Sue Kadel, and Bill Dotson. Dr. Harmon directed Jack Lynn as he tried to play the "Sonata" horn. Doc also sang along with some Sigma Nus and dates as they sang the "White Star" and other fraternity melodies. Those making an effort to vocalize were Dale Huddelson, Gale Cook, Dick Wills, Jeanne Simon, Steve Szmuriga, Dora Ann Thornton, Ed Gross, and Cissy Harvard. In another clique organized in the kitchen, Sigma Chi pledge Wright Horne pounded out cool sounds with knives and forks as Hal Bergem, Morna Campbell, Brownie Greene, Tom McGrath, Ann Connealy, Jack Lynn, Roy McNair, Bunny Johannessen and others sang several party songs with unique lyrics. Also meandering about during the evening, seeking gripes from their constituents were Student Council members Tim Mead, Stan Heckman, and Jim Lear.

Saturday night the KAs let loose with a wild masquerade party. Seen running through the Washington Circle home were Vampira Evertsen (the pride of KD) and the mad scientist, Alex Heslin. Chasing them were Mourners Sandy Hall, Chi O, and Dick Armatrong. From the cellar came the voices of Little Brown Jug, Pat Gussin and swab Bill Watkins and KD Marilyn Hoffman and Ted Biehl. Tossing down Pasternak Specials were Ray Redell and ADPI Val Berman, Jerry Laverty and Edie Gaines. "Killer" Zier and "Madam Butterfly" Evie Hartman, Phi Sig Sig, "Little Boy and Girl" Art and "Hazel" Herman, ADPI Kathy Locker and Jim Cramer, and Jerry Hoffman and ADPI Mary Alice Coates.

Word comes to us of two great Hallowe'enish-type exchanges last Sunday. First, that of Sigma Chi and Kappa Alpha Theta. Everyone came in costume and bobbed for apples and drank from a real witches cauldron. All come to an end at the sound of the bewitching hour. The Pikes and the Kappas got together Sunday afternoon and had one hobgoblin of a time. Also, the Delta Zetas entertained the Kappa Sigs at a coffee hour—while Kappa Sig Pat Mecham (another Frank Sinatra, they tell me) serenaded the girls with the "Kappa Sig Sweetheart Song."

The TEP House was the scene of a gala Hallowe'en blast. The traditional apple dunking victims were Marty Zippner and AEPHI Shelia Bookoff. Also Hallowe'en-ing it up were "Doc" Steve Gordon and "Nurse" Cookie Klumpus, Jerry Bass and Joan Goodman, Mambo Maniacs Hal Bornstein and Jesse Lipman, while Miguel Bellet and Debbi were rollicking in Philly.

Pirates, monsters, and various other hobgoblins invaded the PIKA House last Saturday night. The

Mademoiselle Holds Contest

● MADEMOISELLE IS NOW accepting applications from undergraduate women for membership in its 1958-59 College Board.

The magazine's College Board Contest offers a chance (for the freshman as well as the senior) at winning one of the twenty Guests Editorships—a month on the staff of Mademoiselle. Those who are accepted on the College Board do two assignments, during the college year.

Assignments give College Board members a chance to write features about life on their campus; to submit art work and fashion as well as feature, fiction or promotion ideas for possible use in Mademoiselle; to develop their critical and creative talents; to discover their own abilities and job interests, and to win cash prizes and possibly publication for outstanding work submitted during the contest.

New York

The top twenty guest editors will be brought to New York next June to help write, edit and illustrate the August college issue. They will be paid a regular salary for their month's work, plus round-trip transportation to New York City.

While in New York each Guest Editor takes part in a full calendar of activities. She interviews a celebrity in her chosen field, takes in the theatre, parties, fashion shows, manufacturing houses, stores and advertising agencies, besides working daily with the Mademoiselle editor to whom she is assigned. The twenty Guest Editors receive help in finding positions in their special fields, and each year several join Mademoiselle's own staff.

For further information see your Dean of Women or the August, September, October or November issue of Mademoiselle.

thusiasm. You are trying to get your "little sis" off to a good start, and you're really selling your school. At the same time her interest and enthusiasm rubs off on you. It's catching!"

Furthermore, she thinks that more girls—sophomores, juniors, and seniors—should participate in this already popular activity.

When asked how she came to choose GW, Kathy confessed, "I didn't really want to come here to begin with—you know, all the stories you hear about 'street car' school. But I liked it the moment I got here."

Kathy went on to explain her surprise at the "cosmopolitan" atmosphere, and commented about something which, we suspect, is not often realized. This is the fact that GW is known throughout the nation, and is not strictly a local sort of school.

However, Kathy was not completely among strangers upon her arrival at 21st and G. It seems that students at her alma mater, Western High School here in the District, had chosen GW en masse the year she enrolled. In fact, many of her friends including Kitty Hyland, Meredith Eagon

Rode and Marby Adams entered together, and as Kathy says, "We've been together from kindergarten through college."

Originally, a four-year curriculum with a B.A. was not in her plans. She enrolled in the secretarial studies at first, and upon earning her A.A., she became girl Friday to a vice-president at the American Society of Association Executives. In this capacity, she was able to travel along the East coast and in the Middle West, but, she says, "I missed GW so much, I just had to come back."

In her three years at GW, Kathy has managed to keep, besides her many extra-curricular activities, a 3.2 P.I. This is reflected in her election to Mortar Board. She now serves as veep of this body, and acts as adviser to Tassels.

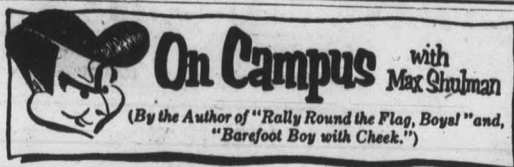

At present, she is engrossed in introductory chemistry, "my pet subject," and the completion of her major in Business Education. Although she graduates in June, her plans for the future are still nebulous. "I change my mind every day. I've been everything from an air line hostess to a public high school teacher," she laughed.

But one thing is certain, Kathy will stay in Washington where, "all my friends are."

"Space" Discussion

● DR. JOHN P. HAGEN, Director of the U. S. Satellite program, will present a speech, "Scientific Research in Space," at the AIEEE-IRE chapter meeting, Wednesday, Nov. 5, 8:30 p.m., in Thompsons 200. Non-members are also invited to this meeting.

ANYONE FOR FOOTBALL?

When Pancho Sigafos, sophomore, pale and sensitive, first saw Willa Ludowic, freshman, lithe as a hazel wand and rosy as the dawn, he hemmed not; neither did he haw. "I adore you," he said without preliminary.

"Thanks, hey," said Willa, flinging her apron over her face modestly. "What position do you play?"

"Position?" said Pancho, looking at her askance. (The askance is a ligament just behind the ear.)

"On the football team," said Willa.

"Football?" sneered Pancho, his young lip curling. "Football is violence, and violence is the death of the mind. I am not a football player. I am a poet!"

"So long, buster," said Willa.

"Wait!" cried Pancho, clutching her damask forearm.

She placed a foot on his pelvis and wrenched herself free. "I only go with football players," she said, and walked, shimmering, into the gathering dusk.

Pancho went to his room and lit a cigarette and pondered his read dilemma. What kind of cigarette did Pancho light? Why, Philip Morris, of course!

Philip Morris is always welcome, but never more than when you are sore beset. When a fellow needs a friend, when the heart is dull and the blood runs like sorghum, then, then above all, is the time for the mildness, the serenity, that only Philip Morris can supply.

Pancho Sigafos, his broken psyche welded, his fevered brow cooled, his synapses restored, after smoking a fine Philip Morris, came to a decision. Though he was a bit small for football (an even four feet) and somewhat overweight (427 pounds), he tried out for the team—and tried out with such grit and gumption that he made it.

Pancho's college opened the season against the Manhattan School of Mines, always a mettlesome foe, but strengthened this year by four exchange students from Gibraltar who had been suckled by she-apes. By the middle of the second quarter the Miners had wrought such havoc upon Pancho's team that there was nobody left on the bench but Pancho. And when the quarterback was sent to the infirmary with his head driven straight down into his esophagus, the coach had no choice but to put Pancho in.

Pancho's teammates were not conspicuously cheered as the little fellow took his place in the huddle.

"Gentleman," said Pancho, "some of you may regard poetry as sissy stuff, but now in our most trying hour, let us hark to these words from Paradise Lost: 'All is not lost; the unconquerable will and study of revenge, immortal hate, and courage never to submit or yield!'"

So stirred was Pancho's team by this fiery exhortation that they threw themselves into the fray with utter abandon. As a consequence, the entire squad was hospitalized before the half. The college was forced to drop football. Willa Ludowic, not having any football players to choose from, took up with Pancho and soon discovered the beauty of his soul. Today they are seen everywhere—dancing, holding hands, nuzzling, smoking.

Smoking what? Philip Morris, of course!

handle faculty liaison, and Tom McGrath, publicity director, and Betsy Evans, vice president, will supervise student promotion.

Freshman director, Kitty Hyland, heads the decorations committee, Jackie Lovett, secretary, will handle sorority publicity. Student Union chairman, Carl Scrivener, will contact fraternities.

School representatives will sell tickets throughout the student body. Members of co-operating dormitory councils in Strong, Madison, Adams and Welling halls will also promote the dance.

Flag

Meanwhile the Inter-fraternity Council voted last week to buy the Deltas a new fraternity flag. Only a remnant of their old banner hung above the charred doors of the house after the fire.

Sorority girls, through the Panhellenic Council, offered to sew curtains and slipcovers for the fraternity's new accommodations. Heading the work project is cheerleading captain Liz McGarry. Further offers of time, money, and work poured in from independent student groups, faculty members, administrative officials, alumni and interested Washingtonians. Personal expressions of sympathy to the bereaved families and fraternity brothers numbered in the hundreds.

Handbook Study

• THE STUDENT COUNCIL heard an activities committee report Wednesday night launching a study of the value of student handbooks. The survey is designed to determine the extent of handbook use, the means of financing and the attitude of freshmen toward the book. Committee members will contact city schools comparable to the University, such as Western Reserve and Boston University, to find out whether or not they use handbooks and if so, how the schools finance them. They will seek similar information from ten non-municipal private colleges, such as Depauw and Ohio Wesleyan. Other members are to interview freshmen and ask them if they received a handbook, read it, liked it and kept it. Surveyors have been encouraged to try to get a cross section of the freshman population. A fifth member is to talk with the Engineers' Council about the costs and procedures of an engineers' handbook put out this year.

Homecoming Highlights Damon Runyon Drama

• MORE THAN FIFTY people will have a hand in the University Players Homecoming production of "Guys and Dolls" November 14.

Director of the Lisner auditorium presentation is Morgan James of New York. Producer is Ed Ferero, managing director of University Dramatics.

Playing lead roles in the musical fable of Damon Runyon's Broadway and Times Square are Chuck Johnson as gambler Sky Masterson, Pat Randall as Sgt. Sarah Brown of the Salvation Army, Vince Mortorano as craps shooter Nathan Detroit and Sally Herrington as Miss Adelaide, star of the floor show at the Hot Box night club.

Supporting Actors

Supporting them are Ron Ballin as Benny Southstreet, Paul Frank as Nicely-Nicely Johnson, Don Stoneburner as Harry the Horse, Rick Orlando as Rusty Charlie and Tom Eustace as visiting Chicago dice-player Big Jule.

William Soule will appear as Arvide Abernathy of the Salvation Army, Yvonne Lucy as Gen. Matilda B. Cartwright and Richard Runge as Lt. Brannigan.

Men's chorus members are Joe Spitzer, Dave Dunner, Ray Holt, Roy DuBrow, Bob Lineberry and Tony Suescun.

Women's Chorus

Members of the women's chorus are Linda Harris, Helene Harper, Joan Walsh, Cathy Maier, Jean Simon and Kay Buchanan.

Playing in the strolling sidewalk band of the Salvation Army's Save-a-Soul Mission will be Joan Dekker, Shirley Reeder, Dorothy Williams and George Rainforth.

Night club dancers in a Cuban sequence are Joan Talbert, Pat Ortel, Carol Frankfeldt, Sara Rodriguez, Maggie Cannon, Carol Miller, Erika Markwood, Jack

In charge of scenic design is Nancy Davis. Her advisor is Donald C. Kline, professor of art. Musical director is Leon Brusiloff, and rehearsal pianist is Mr. Frank.

Also Involved

Also involved in the production will be orchestra members, volunteer ushers, auditorium staff members and Homecoming committee personnel.

The play will follow a short pep rally, including the introduction of the Homecoming Queen finalists and presentation of the 1958 football team.

Other Homecoming weekend events are the annual dance, parade football game, open houses and class reunions.

facilities in a two-story building at 706 22nd street. This house was used until this year as the Alumni Relations office.

Mr. Toomey said that the facilities will not be as inclusive as the three-story structure which burned. The 22nd street house will offer sleeping facilities for five boys.

According to Mr. Toomey the four out-of-town boys, Bernie Degen, Bill Eilbeck, Tim Mead and Dick Gillespie, will be given the first opportunity to occupy the rooms. "The other boys can live at home," he said.

Bookstore Aid

Burr Christopher, a member of the house corporation for the fraternity and an alumnus, said that an accounting of books lost has not been taken. Miss Birdie Harris, manager of the University bookstore, said, "Whatever we can do to help, we will."

Bill Talantino, who might have been trapped with his roommate Dick Gillespie had he been at the fraternity house the night of the fire said that exams saved him.

He said that Dick had tried to get him to stay for the weekend, "but I didn't stay because I had to study for mid-terms."

HATCHET Staff

• THE NEWS STAFF of the HATCHET will meet today at 12:10 p.m. in the rear office of the HATCHET in the Student Union Annex. Story assignments and other business will be conducted at that time. All members are required to attend.

Purinton, Art Bauman, Dick Buskle and Karl Schmid.

Many of the dancers and chorus members will also appear in walk-on roles.

Technical Director

Technical director of the production is Al Justice. Supervisor of lighting is Leo Gallenstein of Arena Stage.

Stage managers are Dick Ross and Ruth Herman. Miss Herman is also wardrobe mistress. Her assistant is Caroline Barcay. Sue Wakefield is properties chairman.

Buff To Meet Midshipmen; Squad Faces Toughest Test

By Merritt Murry

IN TWO WEEKS the Colonials will come to grips with Navy, the toughest opponent on their schedule. Although walloped by Notre Dame last week, the powerful Midshipmen still remain a heavy favorite over a weaker Buff eleven.

Navy must still be regarded as one of the top teams in the nation despite an upset by Tulane. Their powerful running and passing attack under the able leadership of Joe Tranchini pose a tremendous problem for Coach Sherman's men.

Until the Tulane game the Middies were running wild on the gridiron and scored overwhelming victories over William and Mary, Boston University and Michigan.

Working out of a split-T formation, Navy built a powerhouse offense under the passing of Tranchini and the fine running of halfbacks Joe Bellino and Dick Dagampat. The Midshipmen defense was set up under a hard charging line although they were without the services of All-American Tackle Bob Reifsnnyder, who was out with a foot injury.

After the Tulane upset, the Middies smashed Penn 56-8 and appeared to be repeating last years 8-1-1 record until Notre Dame set them back with a crushing 40-20 defeat. At the present, Navy stands with a 4-2 record.

The Colonials in contrast, have a 2-3 record, losing to Richmond, Detroit and West Virginia while gaining victories over Furman and William and Mary.

Last week's loss to West Virginia was a tough one. After con-178 yards. In the Richmond contest, Billy Baker completed 7 passes for 174 yards. Navy has a devastating passing attack as witnessed by the 194 yards they rolled up though they lost so handily to Notre Dame.

It seems that Coach Bo Sherman must work out quite a formidable pass defense among his backfield men if he is to contain the potent passing of Navy's Joe Tranchini. This is quite a task, but the results could give the G.W. homecoming fans something to cheer about.

scored three plays later. Longfellow dived across for the two points and made the score 14-6.

But the Colonials weren't through scoring. A 29-yard run, the longest of the game, by Lou DeSimone put the Buff on the West Virginia 9. An offside penalty moved the ball to the 4, and John Wilt plunged over for the TD. An attempted pass for the conversion failed and the score at the end of the third quarter was 14-12.

In the last period the Mountaineers went wild. A 17-yard scamper by Longfellow to the G. W. 20 set up the next West Virginia score. Longfellow led a running attack to the Buff one and Fullback Whipkey scored.

Longfellow left the game at this point, but Chuck Simpson engineered two more scores — one scored by himself, the other on a 17-yard pass play to End Tony Tallrico.

Dick Longfellow, who starred against the Colonials last year, once again proved to be the G. W. nemesis. He gained 80 yards on ten rushing attempts and completed ten out of 24 passes for 86 yards. After the first West Virginia score in the second period, he seemed to have the Buff defense in a quandry. In the second half he had little trouble leading the Mountaineer attack through the confused Buff defense.

The Colonial offense was little match for the Mountaineer's superlative weight and depth. The Buff eleven gained only 88 yards on the ground and 19 yards in the air. In the first half G. W. managed to penetrate West Virginia territory twice, both times on recovered fumbles.

In defeating G. W., West Virginia scored its 27th straight Southern Conference win, including 7 straight victories over the Buff.

Football Idle, Ping-Pong On

THE INTRAMURAL Department postponed the football games scheduled for last Sunday due to rain. This is the second week in a row that the games have not been played, and means that the football intramurals will not be over until the 23rd of November.

All games scheduled for this week will be played next week at the same time at the ellipse and monument grounds.

The intramural ping-pong tournament will continue this week and should be concluded this Friday. As the tournament is only at its midpoint no results have been announced by the intramural office.

The Intramural department also announced that it is still working on a plan by which men participating in the intramural program will be covered by insurance. Mr. Vincent DeAngelis, director of intramurals, said that he hoped a workable plan would be presented to the athletic representatives of the various organizations participating in "murals" in the near future.

taining the favored Mountaineers for the first two periods, the Colonials were swamped, 35-12. The Buff could possibly have scored an upset had their defense held together.

The Buff offense needs a lot of improvement to even come close to that of Navy. Everything seems to hinge around the inability of the G.W. team to block for the backfield. Ted Colna could be the key to a powerful running attack if he can get more efficient blocking from the line. Ed Hino and Don Herman represent a potent passing combination as witnessed in previous games, but unless Hino gets better pass protection, the big G.W. passing attack will be of little value.

G.W.'s hopes against a repetition of last year's 52-0 slaughter seems to be resting on the Buff defense. The Colonial line has shown a tremendous improvement since the beginning of the season. The William and Mary upset especially pointed out the value of the improved line defense. The contest was primarily a defensive struggle with G.W. coming out on top.

However, the Buff has been weak on pass defense. In the West Virginia game, Dick Longfellow completed 14 passes for a total of

Mountaineers Beat Buff; Final Rally Nets 23 Points

by Stan Heckman

• A CROWD OF 13,000 in Morgantown, West Virginia, watched the Mountaineers of West Virginia put on an amazing scoring rally in the last quarter to defeat the Colonials, 35-12.

For three quarters the Colonials held the Mountaineers in check, but in the last period the West Virginia offense came to life and scored 21 points. The Buff defense fell apart before a fine running and passing attack led by Mountaineer star Dick Longfellow.

For a few minutes in the second quarter the Colonials were in the lead. The score came as a result of a comedy of fumbles. Mountaineer halfback Bill McClure dropped a handoff and Lou De-Simone recovered for G. W. on the West Virginia 29. Runs by Ted Colna and Tom Haly took the ball down to the 11, but a Buff fumble turned the ball over to the Mountaineers.

G. W. Scores

The next play saw Ray Peterson fumble, and Bill Smythe fell on the ball to give G. W. first down on the five. Ed Hino scored three plays later, and the Colonials took the lead.

The G. W. success was short-lived. Mountaineer quarterback Dick Longfellow led a 66-yard scoring drive which was aided by a series of Colonial miscues. Ted Colna was called for pass interference on a 13-yard pass play, and Don Herman missed an important tackle on a screen pass. After moving the ball to the G. W. 22, Longfellow carried the ball on a rollout to the four. Halfback Mel Reight scored and the game stood at 6-6.

The West Virginia eleven seemed fired up as the second half opened. Following the kick-off, the Mountaineers marched 61 yards to break the tie. A key 16-yard pass play from Longfellow to Terry Fairbanks set West Virginia on the G. W. 16. Longfellow then carried to the six, and Reight

HATCHET Predicts Intramural Winners

by Aaron Knott

• ALTHOUGH EACH TEAM has only played two games in the intramural football tournament thus far the Mural Mirror will go out on a limb and try to predict the developing trends in the four leagues.

The winner of the Sigma Chi vs. Med. School(a) game should have no trouble in picking up the championship for the A1 League. Both SX and Med. Sch.(a) have beaten the once mighty Phi Alphas. Each won by a score of 19-0. In previous years Phi Alpha has been a gridiron powerhouse, and its teams are still comparatively strong. If next week's games ever get played (they have been postponed two weeks in a row) the SX-Med. Sch. game will be the one to watch. Both organizations are known for their big rough teams, and with a two week layoff each should be ready to roll.

Other Teams

The other teams in the A1 League, Pi Kappa Alpha, Phi Sigma Kappa and J. Q. Adams haven't displayed too much this season. However J. Q. Adams did nose out PiKA and is a possible dark horse.

League A2 is much tighter than the A1 league. Three teams have won both their games and have had strong teams in past years. The Moonlighters always have a tough team, and thus far have rolled over TEP 25-6, and have edged AEPI 7-0. The Moonlighters come up against undefeated Delta Theta Phi next week and the game should be a good one. Delta Theta Phi has defeated TEP and SAE, and has one of the roughest teams in the league.

Delta Tau Delta

Delta Tau Delta is also a major contender for the A2 title. So far this season the Deltas have defeated AEPI 13-6, and SAE 13-0. Last year DTD played PiKA for the All-University Championship, and they still have the services of last year's quarterback Jerry Cornelius. Last year's intramural outstanding athlete Henry Mayo is also on the Delt squad. The Deltas won't face a major test for another two weeks at which time they will meet DTPhi.

The situation in the B leagues is not nearly as clear as the one in the A Leagues. In League B1 two of the four games played thus far have been decided on first downs, but Tau Kappa Epsilon seems to have an edge on the other teams. TKE beat Phi-AD on first downs, and defeated SPE 12-7. Other teams in League B1 are SPE and Theta Tau.

League B1 has seen only three games played and it is impossible to spot a real trend until all the teams have played at least once.

... PAY DIRT! G. W. takes the lead in the first quarter of Saturday's game against the Mountaineers from West Virginia. Mountain man Dick Gessman vainly tries to hold back G. W.'s quarterback Ed Hino, but to no avail. The Buff took 6-0 lead which lasted until the second quarter.

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE—BUT TODAY'S L'M GIVES YOU—

They said it couldn't be done! Only a few years ago, the four-minute mile seemed unattainable. But on May 6, 1954, the barrier was shattered, and since then, the feat has been repeated again and again. Last summer five men bettered four minutes in one race!
